STATEMENT OF COMPLAINT & VIOLATIONS OF TEXAS INSURANCE CODE

Complainant respectfully files this formal complaint against Turo Insurance Agency, LLC a carrier for bad-faith claims practices, deceptive adjustment, and unlawful retention of a $5(deposit under Texas Insurance Code Chapter 1954 (Peer-to-Peer Car Sharing), Chapter 5 (Unfair Methods of Competition and Unfair or Deceptive Practices), and Chapter 542 (Pror Payment of Claims / Unfair Settlement Practices).

1. Factual Summary

Complainant booked a rental of a 2018 Ford Focus (106,504 miles) through Turo. Followin vehicle, the host and his chosen repair facility (Reliable Autos Houston) asserted a physica alleging that the vehicle suffered an “underbody impact” that compromised the lower splas a radiator coolant leak. Based entirely on the host’s repair estimate, Turo unilaterally charg Complainant’s $500.00 security deposit.

12. Evidentiary Contradiction & Fraudulent Adjustment (Exhibits A & B)

Turo’s liability determination is arbitrary, deceptive, and directly contradicted by its own ind inspection report: * The Host’s False Narrative: Reliable Autos Houston stated to Turo: > “T coolant leak was caused by an underbody impact event. Physical evidence includes exten damage to the lower underbody shield. . . ” (CENTRO Report, Page 1). * The Independent Disproves the Claim: Turo dispatched an independent field inspector, Todd Garnter of CEN Services, who physically placed the vehicle on a lift on October 5, 2026. Inspector Garnter under penalty of insurance reporting: > –> “NO SIGN OF UNDER SIDE IMPACT MARKS.” (CENTRO Report, Page 2). * Adjuster Concession vs. Estimate Padding: On October 7, 2(PM, Turo Adjuster Juliet admitted in writing: > “the reported damages were identified on th of the vehicle rather than the visible front bumper area." Yet, Turo's Snapsheet/Audatex es 1085755) unlawfully billed $731.60 in labor and hundreds in materials to repair, overhaul, a front bumper cover and replace the front grille assembly—areas Turo's own adjuster conce undamaged.

Describe what you would consider to be a fair resolution to your complaint.

The 2018 Ford Focus is an 8-year-old vehicle with 106,504 miles. The electronic diagnosti during the inspection (CENTRO Report, Page 32) revealed OBD-II Diagnostic Trouble Cod (Ignition Coil A Circuit Failure)—an internal electrical/mechanical failure wholly unrelated to driving impact. A pinhole radiator leak at 106,000 miles without any underside impact mark definition of mechanical wear-and-tear, which Texas Insurance Code Chapter 1954 and Tu place exclusively upon the vehicle owner.
4. Violations of Texas Law
Turo has violated: * Tex. Ins. Code § 541.060(a)(1): Misrepresenting a material fact or polic relating to coverage; * Tex. Ins. Code § 541.060(a)(7): Refusing to pay a claim or return fu conducting a reasonable investigation based on all available information; and * Tex. Ins. C et seq.: Operating a peer-to-peer car sharing program with deceptive claims adjustment pr

RELIEF REQUESTED

2. Order Turo to immediately cease collection efforts and issue a full refund of the $500.00 deposit; and 3. Audit Turo's practice of billing consumers for cosmetic bumper overhauls w
